Foreword

With the publishing of Volume I of the Charlemo in 1921, the staff presented to every citizen of St. Charles and to every student of SCHS a permanent record that would serve as a heritage in years to come. In view of our rapid forward movement, this volume is dedicated to forty-seven years of SCHS tradition.

Here Is but a

Fraction of Our Lives

Four Long Years of Our Lives . . .

An epilogue to four years of our lives—often pleasant, sometimes painful, is always present in our memories. We shall pass here but once, with all our past crowded into yesterdays and all our hopes marching toward tomorrow. These halls shall keep our secrets, share our dreams, aim our minds and souls toward next year's happiness.

It is over. We are gone. The world can't wait. And now we take a different place among America's two million citizens. We were the Seniors of '68.

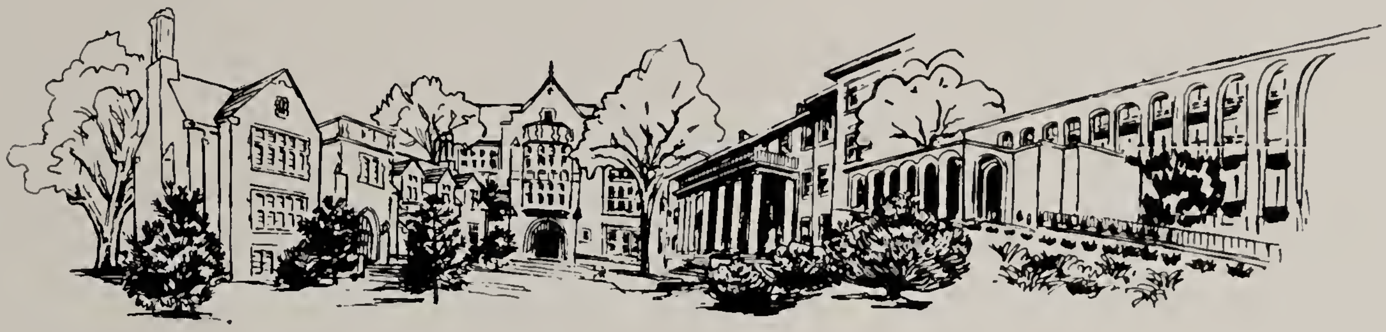
FINAL EXAM



Where is Lindenwood College?

—Florence, Italy
—London, England
—Athens, Greece
—St. Charles, Missouri
—San Miguel, Mexico
—Zug, Switzerland
—Washington, D.C.
—St. Louis, Missouri
—New York, New York

(For the answer, turn page upside down)

The answer is all of the above. Lindenwood students during the past year studied Renaissance Literature and Art in Florence, broadcasting and government controls in Washington, D.C., contemporary literature and drama in New York and London, politics in Switzerland, microbiology in St. Louis, and many other subjects relevant to life in the twentieth century right here in St. Charles. You can live at home, go to Lindenwood, and study anywhere in the world.

faces . . . our faces . . . laughing, doubting, searching, questioning.
all too soon we forget them as we pass over bridges of uncertainty in search of what they call tomorrows.
as time darts past a sleeping door
and faces float in and out of dreams,
we remember this time in our lives
and we remember something they call yesterdays.
